Cleveland, Ohio 44142

Founded in 1926, NTA is the oldest technical organization for minority scientists, engineers and technologists in the country. NTA promotes career development of minority professionals in scientific and technical fields through networking, workshops and collaborative programs. This goal also includes introducing minority youth to opportunities in the technical fields. At the 2017 awards program, the Cleveland NTA awarded two college scholarships to deserving young students and honored a record eight technical professionals.
